

Dataset evaluation split

The diagram illustrates the split of a dataset for evaluation. It features two main rounded rectangular containers. The left container is light orange and contains a smaller pink circle. The right container is light yellow. The pink circle is labeled 'Validation data', the orange container is labeled 'Training data', and the yellow container is labeled 'Evaluation data'.

Training
data

Validation
data

Evaluation
data